

200 Turn Out for Discussion

Charter Issue Creates Interest in Local Government

By EVELYN KRISTOFF

Regardless of whether a home rule charter is approved or defeated, the Marion League, president of the Marion League, has served to create more interest in government.

Approximately 200 persons attending a citizens' meeting Thursday at the YMCA became aware of this idea as they listened to Miss Pansy Rauhauser and Robert Kelly present a panel discussion on the home rule charter issue.

Presented as a voters' service project by the Marion League of Women Voters, this pre-election citizens' meeting also served as a (means to introduce candidates appearing on the ballot.

Mrs. Rauhauser, president of the Marion League, presided during the meeting. In her discussion, Miss Rauhauser reviewed the background of the home rule charter movement. Candidates were selected, and gave brief biographical sketches of these 15 candidates.

Thoughts about a home rule charter for Marion had been simmering for years, she told the group, but it wasn't until this spring that a group led by J. E. Oliphant took the initiative and called an open meeting to discuss the feasibility of taking action to secure a charter for Marion.

At this public meeting, held in the Silver Street School auditorium, Prof. Harvey Walker of Ohio State University spoke on the advantages of having a city charter. At this meeting a study committee of 23 Marionites was selected by those present to make plans for the presentation of the issue to the voters this November.

THIS STUDY COMMITTEE divided into sub-committees, the speaker told the assembled group, and carried out the necessary steps of circulating petitions requesting the placement of the issue on the ballot and the submission of a state of 15 candidates to serve on a commission if the issue were approved by the voters.

The selection of these 15 candidates was made in a democratic manner, Miss Rauhauser emphasized, and the group is getting a fair representation of all sections and groups in Marion.

Louis Conkle served as the chairman for this committee of 18 persons who had the responsibility of selecting the candidates. A total of 118 names were submitted by this sub-committee and on the evening on which the 118 names were narrowed down to the 15 appearing on the ballot, 13 sub-committee members were present.

THIS SLATE of 15 was filed with the Board of Elections before the deadline in order to give ample time for others to file as candidates. No one did, she said.

Kelly told the persons attending the citizens' meeting that he was talking to them about the home rule charter issue as a member of the speakers' bureau of the proponents' group and because he was "sold on the idea."

He told the group that he first became interested in municipal government when he helped prepare the annual municipal report of the city of Dayton for three years when he was a student at the University of Dayton.

If the home rule charter for Marion is approved by voters Tuesday, Kelly said the commission of 15 persons would study the needs of Marion and then, at the 1934 election, submit a charter that they think will best fit those needs.

HE, AS MISS RAUHAUSER, stressed that this commission is not committed to any one form of government. Marion voters, if not agreeable with the charter submitted to them for their approval at least 30 days before the 1934 general election, can reject it.

Facts and figures supporting the necessity of acquiring a home rule charter for Marion were cited by Kelly. He pointed out that Marion is in a period of growth. Since 1900, the population has tripled, he reported, and in the last 20 years municipal expenditures have quadrupled.

"Proponents of a home rule charter for Marion are not shooting at any public officials, past or present," Kelly stressed.

MEMBERS OF THE study committee, which includes Miss Rauhauser and Kelly, have found that there is considerable interest in the city manager plan, which is one of five possible forms of government the commission could propose to Marion voters.

Kelly gave background information about the city manager plan when it started in the forefront of the century, bringing it up to date when over a thousand communities in the United States feature it, including 28 Ohio cities.

He concluded his portion of the discussion by stressing that acquiring a home rule charter "is no cure-all for Marion's problems."

GOOD GOVERNMENT depends on the interest of the people, he said. The meeting was then open for questions from the audience directed to Miss Rauhauser and Kelly.

The keynote message was presented by Mrs. William R. Dem. and candidates were introduced by Mrs. Henry Ruhl. The meeting was a project of the voters' service committee headed by Mrs. Francis Wanda, who was assisted by Mrs. Robert W. Fay in making arrangements for the meeting.

Other city, county and state issues were discussed briefly by Mrs. Durward Myers, Mrs. Walter Sunden, and Mrs. B. N. Salzman.

Pair Being Tried For Murder Admit To Manslaughter

IRONTON, Ohio (U)—Alfred Robinson, 26, and William Saunders, 27, were sentenced on manslaughter charges Wednesday after common pleas court despaired of finding enough jurors to try them for first degree murder.

The men originally were charged with first degree murder in the robbery-beating of Karl Williams, 41, Grann, Ky., last July 4. But in two days of questioning 125 prospective jurors, only 10 were sealed. Ninety-two were excused because they said they objected to capital punishment.

Saunders and Robinson drew 1-20 year terms in Ohio Penitentiary. They could have been sentenced to death had they been convicted on the first degree charges.

Defense Counsel Roy L. Henry suggested his clients plead guilty to manslaughter. Prosecutor Harold Stears agreed because of "the number of jurors who would have to be called and the percentage of persons refusing and unwilling to vote for capital punishment."

Dads' Day Scheduled At Wesleyan Saturday

DELAWARE—The loudest cheer at the Ohio Wesleyan-Mount Union football game Saturday afternoon will be for D-A-D.

This is Dads' Day weekend on the Ohio Wesleyan campus and Dad will have the run of the place. If he feels up to it, he can even go to classes with his offspring Saturday morning.

One of the major events of the weekend will be a father-son panel discussion on "What Do You Want to Get Out of Your Career in Business?" Sponsored by the Department of Economics and Business Administration the panel will include four prominent businessmen.

The main attraction in the afternoon will be the OWU-Mount Union game on Selby Field, with kickoff time set at 2 o'clock.

Others of the OWU players will take their traditional place on a special bench along the sidelines. They will wear the numerals of their fathers.

Communism Remains A Serious Threat, Says Senate Subcommittee votes, as in France and Italy, represent not so much pro-Communist votes as anti-government votes. But he cautioned that a small, highly disciplined Red group can succeed "in a wrecking operation."

In less than four decades since the Bolshevik Revolution in Russia he observed the Communists have grown in strength until they now control governments of one-third of the population and one-fourth of the area of the world.

To undermine the Communist strength could prove to be suicidal blindness, especially in view of the Soviet military potential, he said.

In the 16 countries of Western Europe the report said, the Communist parties have an estimated three million members and in national elections poll about 13 million votes.

Other Observations
Observations in the report about other areas of the world included Asia. In general the strength, determination and stability of Asian non-Communist governments are significantly reduced by the strength of indigenous Communist. However, internal developments could at any time reverse a favorable trend.

Latin America—Communist party membership has fallen from some 330,000 in the 1944-47 period to about 200,000. The party is now officially suppressed in 12 of the 20 Latin American countries and in none is it an important electoral factor.

Middle East and North Africa—Except potentially in Iran, the Communist parties here "still lack the strength to alter the structure of society by revolutionary action."

The ties of family and of country were never intended to counter the Communist's desire to conquer the world—Channing

Won't Be Very Active

Ike's Role in Election Remains Vague

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—After two news conferences in which reporters tried to pin him down, President Eisenhower's role in the 1954 congressional elections is still vague. He has made it vague. He has indicated he doesn't want to be very active in the campaign. But he has left the door open in case he decides he must take a bigger part in the elections than he now seems to think necessary.

Before election day in November, 1954—because of necessity and Republican pressure—he may have to jump in, hip-deep. There's a lot at stake for him, his administration and the Republican party. Control of Congress depends on the outcome. If the Democrats win, Eisenhower will have to deal with them, and depend on them for support of his program in the two remaining years of his term. He has a record of showing distaste for the rough and tumble of politics—until he's pushed. Then he can dig in with energy. He demonstrated that in the presidential race.

His early speeches in the 1952 campaign were less than blood-thirsting. This alarmed his supporters that some told him bluntly he was running like a dry creek. After that, he made a slam-bang campaign. Judging from what he has said at his news conferences, he seems to think he can sit out most of next year's campaign quietly in the White House.

But if the Republican leaders push or persuade him into more activity, he may not find the going as mild as he did in 1952. Then he was a war hero, and the Democrats treated him gently.

They have mostly continued to treat him gently. If he gets too antagonistic toward them in 1954, he may find himself pelted like any other politician.

It would be nice—especially for Eisenhower—if he could go through four White House years without getting the slugging which is the lot of any president.

It's possible that Eisenhower, so far as an untarnished and heroic figure in American history, is conscious of what may be in store for him if he gets too aggressive politically from now on.

Former President Truman rolled up his sleeves and barged into congressional elections. That isn't what Eisenhower says he has in mind. On the contrary, he says he doesn't think a president should do it.

In his Oct. 21 news conference he said:

"He has no intention of going out and getting into partisan struggles in any district or state because he thinks people might resent such intrusion."

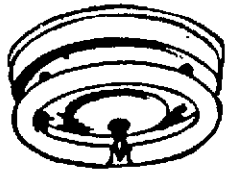

This vision of the President sitting mum while they were out battling for control of Congress didn't sit well with some Republicans. And in his Oct. 28 news conference Eisenhower indicated he might do a little more than sit quietly at home.

Now it seems, from what he said, he may make some nationwide broadcasts in behalf of Republicans in general. In some cases he might even put a particular Republican on the back.

The President said the best thing he can do for his party in 1954 is engineer a program that will attract the voters to the Republicans.

A guest minister will assist each pastor in the mission effort toward "deepening of spiritual life," a movement in progress for some time throughout Methodism. Last December, Rev. Eyster spent a week in a similar program in the Washington D. C. area, working at First Methodist Church at Fredericksburg, Va.

In addition to speaking to the group of ministers each morning, he will be heard each night at the St. James Church in Kingston, aiding the pastor, Rev. Ralph Houston, with the preaching phase of the mission.

Woman Takes Rap
To Shield Her Son

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Dovie Blanche Dean—a woman prosecuting attorneys call a "cold, hard, clever and cruel drunkard"—is going to the electric chair to save her son, her lawyers said yesterday.

They made the statement in a clemency hearing before the state parole and parole commission for the 55-year-old Owensville woman scheduled to die Nov. 6.

She was convicted of murdering her husband, Hawkins Dean, 66, last year by spiking his milk with rat poison so she could inherit his $27,000 estate.

Her counsel said yesterday she is shielding her son, Carl Meyer of Charleston, W. Va.

They said she replied after being told evidence pointed to her or Carl:

"If it's between my son and me, I'll take the blame."

She once accused him of the murder, they continued.

The lawyers said their plea regarding Carl Meyer could not be classified as legal evidence.

The opinion of the parole board can mean life or death to Mrs. Dean. It goes to Gov. Frank J. Lausche. Her only hope for escape from the electric chair is clemency on his part. The state supreme court has refused to review her case.

Diplomats Attend
Party for Queen

LONDON (AP)—London's diplomatic corps turned out in best bib and tucker last night for its main social event of the year—Queen Elizabeth's dazzling presentation party at Buckingham Palace.

The Duke of Edinburgh and Prime Minister Churchill were on hand, both wearing full evening dress with knee britches and the emblem of the Garter, Britain's oldest order of chivalry.

The Queen wore a dress of pale green and pink tulle with a spray of pink artificial roses on her left shoulder and a diamond tiara to replace and earrings.

Arrangements
Worked Out for Trieste Move

LONDON (AP)—Britain and the United States reportedly have worked out detailed arrangements for withdrawing their troops from Zone A of the bitterly-disputed Trieste territory and handing the area over to Italy.

Informants said the plans were drawn up in four days of secret talks ending yesterday. They presumably will go into effect when the two nations decide to carry out their Oct. 8 declaration that the strategic zone would be ceded to Italy.

The U.S.-British conferees reportedly also considered methods of dealing with any emergency that might arise as a result of the withdrawal.

Yugoslav President Tito has Co of Elyria, Ohio, was apparent threatened to march his troops on 81 miles of roadway into Zone A the moment Italian forces set foot there.

Demand Foreign Aid Cut, Relief for Farmers

Southern Senators Initiate Astute Political Move

By EDWARD K. NELLOR

WASHINGTON (NANA)—A coalition of Southern Democrats in the Senate, reversing the field to demand a halt on foreign-aid spending, have more in mind than helping the Eisenhower administration balance the budget next year.

Traditional advocates of big allotments of U. S. cash for our Allies—which in turn is spent in the U. S. for such things, among others, as cotton and tobacco—southern senators collectively and individually have suddenly been taking pot shots at economic aid for our Allies.

At first blush Republicans, who have been shouting for the same thing, welcomed the reinforcements, especially because of the calibre of the politicians involved. George of Georgia, Byrd of Virginia, Russell of Georgia, Sparkman of Alabama—all prominent party spokesmen—have recently joined in denouncing heavy U. S. cash outlays for foreign nations.

The Dixie land battle cry has been that if the budget is to be balanced foreign spending must be cut drastically from the $6,000,000,000 total for this year.

BUDGET BALANCING—a responsibility of the administration instead of a coalition of southern senators—is window dressing for a smart political move hatched in the fertile brain of Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, the southern spokesman on agriculture.

Farmers and cottonmen in the South, hit by dry weather and falling prices, are becoming highly critical of donating cash to foreign nations while their own incomes continue to shrivel.

All the Dixie land senators admit this resentment is barely audible at the moment but that it could assume prairie-fire proportions in no time at all.

Of more importance from a political standpoint is the fact that the southern senators realize that, unless the agriculture income turns to the better, new demands will be made on Congress for more cash for the farmers.

With the air filled with economy cries, the senators know it will be sudden death for any lavish proposal to boost farm income now at the expense of the taxpayer.

Thus the sudden economy drive on foreign aid. If it can be eliminated entirely or trimmed to one or two billion dollars for next year there will be plenty of fiscal room for farm senators, with an eye on the federal treasury, to move around in.

No politician, north or south, wants to get caught voting for free dollars for foreigners while pinching pennies in helping his own farm constituents.

The southern senators were merely the first ones to sniff the political winds blowing off the parched prairie nad croplands and do something publicly about it.

THE DECISION to oppose further foreign-aid spending is neither underhanded nor deceitful toward our Allies. It is simply sound politics with sufficient practical trimmings to make the move popular.

The fact is that, unless there is a rainfall miracle and a sudden rush by consumers to the butcher and baker, farm earnings are going to stay where they are or drop further.

This means one thing. Further farm demands for relief—both from the drought and from falling prices.

Both demands will cost money—lots of it—and there is only one place for Congress to get it: from the taxpayers.

The southern coalition has, in conjunction with demands for a curtailment of foreign aid, taken another look at defense spending at home and abroad. Most are convinced some trimming could take place here, too, which is hard to admit after sacrificing themselves on the Air Force altar following the $5,000,000,000 Defense Department cut in that budget.

A further saving in defense spending added to the foreign-aid budget trimming would increase the chances of selling the country and Congress on the need for more attention to the voting farm population of the nation.

ACTUALLY THE SOUTHERN coalition of senators are riding on the coat-tails of their constituents on foreign-aid economy. Ex-Sen. Tom Connally of Texas was the first major political victim of disgust over foreign giveaway programs. He wanted more, his constituents wanted less. He abandoned

SEOUL (AP) — "Find Sgt. John Brown!"

Newsreel and still photographers in Korea got that order yesterday from their offices in New York.

Brown is the soldier-husband of television singer Dorothy McGuire. Singer Julius La Rosa, who was fired last week from Arthur Godfrey's TV program, announced he intends to marry Miss McGuire as soon as she can get a divorce.

Miss McGuire's parents said her husband is in Korea, but refused to say where, or in which outfit.

"Find him and take his picture," the messages ordered, urgently.

So the newsmen asked the 8th Army to check its director of personnel. A public information officer found 70—that's right, 70—Sgt. John Browns stationed at 8th Army headquarters, or in divisions on the front, on ammunition dumps on engineer units.

"And you might call the 5th Air Force, the 1st Marine Division, the 1st Marine Air Wing and the Korean Communications Zone," the 8th Army PIO suggested. "They undoubtedly have some more."

Auto Workers To Obey Order Limiting Pickets

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers, whose members at North American Aviation, Inc., are on strike, have pledged full compliance with a court order limiting pickets at plant gates.

"We have conducted a peaceable and orderly strike until now, and it's our intention to maintain this reputation," said a statement issued by the union's Local No. 887.

Some 33,000 North American workers in plants here, in Fresno, Calif., and in Columbus, Ohio, struck last Friday. Company lawyers yesterday obtained a temporary restraining order which bans mass picketing at the Los Angeles plants. One or two pickets at each gate are permitted under the order.

Dairy Farmer Meetings Set

OSU Extension Men To Speak at YMCA

A series of four dairy institute meetings to begin at the YMCA here next Thursday were announced today by Ellwood Parrott, associate county agricultural extension agent.

"The Dairy Situation and Outlook" will be the topic for the first meeting. Agricultural experts from Ohio State University will be the speakers.

The instructional meetings are particularly for the dairy farmer to help him analyze and plan his dairy program. Parrott said. Sponsored by the Marion County Dairy Service Unit in cooperation with the Marion County Agricultural Extension Service, all dairy men in the county as well as the public are invited to attend.

Lyle Barnes, extension economist at Ohio State University, and Robert Pelley, extension specialist in milk marketing, are speakers for the first meeting. Questions and answer periods are scheduled to follow the talks.

At the second meeting on Nov. 12 at the YMCA, also at 8 p.m., "Lowering Feed Costs" will be the topic of discussion. The speaker that night will be C. L. Black, man, extension specialist in dairy service at Ohio State.

Kenneth Battles, extension agricultural engineer at Ohio State, and Perry Ellsworth, dairy technologist there, will talk on "Efficient Dairy Housing" at the Nov. 19 meeting at 8 p.m. in the YMCA. The final meeting is scheduled for Dec. 17 at 1 p.m. at the YMCA. The topic of discussion is "Using Records to Reduce Costs" and the speaker will be Black.

Traitors in Midst

U.N. Should Punish Guilty for Korean Atrocities

The terrible facts are out at last. No amount of glossing over by the apologists for Red China and the Communists in this country and in Europe now can hide the awful story of torture and barbarism in Korea which has been made public by the U.S. Army.

For now it is disclosed that 6-113 Americans were the victims of indescribable atrocities and that hope has been abandoned for nearly all the 7555 American boys listed as missing in Korea.

The Army report, prepared last spring, has been suppressed since that time so as not to create any new incidents which might interfere with the return of surviving American prisoners.

About 250 Communist prisoners, known to have engaged in the atrocities, were held to the last by the U.N. side but now have been released to the Communist side or to the neutral commission and hence are beyond the reach of justice.

THE ARMY REPORT is replete with case histories and sickening photographs. Entirely apart from the 6113 American victims, there were 23,702 other persons — nearly all Koreans — against whom atrocities were committed.

The United States government has begun to tell the story to the whole world. For nothing apparently can be done to punish the individuals who were the war criminals.

The only thing that can be accomplished now is to hold the People and No. 10 Korean and Moscow governments responsible for the acts committed by their agents in North Korea under whose orders the disgraced U.N. soldiers were so brutally treated.

This means more than merely condemning the war criminals by a resolution of the U.N. The time has come to ostracize as barbaric and uncivilized the governments of Red China, Soviet Russia, and North Korea.

DIPLOMATIC relations with such governments, if carried on for reasons of expediency, could only mean that the free governments would be treating them as equals — indifferent to the crimes committed.

Sooner or later the United Nations will have to take a stand on the report which has been presented by the U.S. Army to the U.N. command.

Soviet Russia publicly admitted last spring that — in contravention of the 1950 resolutions of the U.N. which called on all member nations to refrain from giving aid to the aggressors in Korea — the Communist regime in Moscow has sent munitions and supplies and individual officers to help the Reds in North Korea carry on war against the U.N. itself.

THIS CONSTITUTES such a breach of faith as to amount to treason against the U.N., and hence many Americans are wondering why the Soviet government hasn't been tried and expelled before this from the U.N. It will be recalled that the League of Nations once had the temerity to expel the Soviets.

There are many Americans who have been told that the U.N. constitutes the hope of the world for peace and that it is a means of enforcing collective security. But that organization thus far has failed to purge itself of governments which violate the spirit of the charter and ignore its resolutions.

There is no way of course short of war to compel physical compliance so the only means left is moral force. Moral force takes considerable courage, too.

IN THE PRESENT sequence of events moral force would be exerted if the members of the U.N. examined the evidence furnished by the U.S. Army concerning atrocities in Korea and condemned the governments responsible for those brutal and barbaric acts.

Then it would follow logically that no nation would be admitted to the U.N. which had not redressed the wrongs done and merited punishment to the war criminals.

Until and unless such steps satisfactory to the U.N. were taken any government whose troops or agents committed the crimes in Korea would be barred from the U.N. This would be an example of collective resistance to aggression which the whole world would understand.

It would awaken among the peoples behind the Iron Curtain who are themselves the victims of brutality, a hope that liberation for them could not long be postponed.

CERTAINLY if the peoples under Communist rule knew that the rest of the world would not recognize such uncivilized governments this would form a rallying cry for the overthrow of those governments.

The report of Korean atrocities merely confirms the belief that an attempt to negotiate with a gangster government is as useless as it is to make deals with gangsters in the underworld of our American cities.

Looking for a Trend

Wisconsin may or may not have been an election indicator but both sides are taking noticeable steps since the Democrats won a surprising victory to fill a death-created vacancy in the House of Representatives.

As might be expected the winners are crying loudly that a trend is shaping up and with the cattlemen's beef to help them are claiming a big swing their way in the farm vote.

The Republicans are not convinced but neither are they overlooking the possibility of a trend. They are moving cautiously.

Elections in Virginia and New Jersey next Tuesday and in California a week later are being watched closely. Perhaps they'll help determine whether a trend is taking shape—perhaps they won't.

No Democrat has been elected to a state office in New Jersey since 1940 but Republican candidates are running secured this year. Up for grabs is the governorship and a seat in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Traditionally Democratic Virginia finds the Republican candidate for governor waging a vigorous campaign while his opponent, supported by Sen. Byrd, took a setback when his campaign manager was indicted by a federal grand jury for income tax evasion.

Resignation of Rep. Poulson of California to become mayor of Los Angeles has brought on a special election Nov. 10. With no primary to set up sides, two Republicans and two Democrats are competing for the post.

Trends rise and fall and it has been pointed out in the Wisconsin issue that there was no great difference in views of the candidates.

If there is any trend to come in the farm belt, we believe it will not come until next year, after President Eisenhower's commission studying the agricultural problems has a chance to report its findings and the administration has a chance to formulate its policy and take positive steps.

Some wasn't built in a day and though the cattlemen currently are sore we believe they are smart enough to weigh the facts and give the administration time to help them.

Until Next Time
By TRUMAN TWILL

When a column in a newspaper goes on vacation, its absence must hit readers with the impact of feathers falling into lemon meringue pies.

But don't get the idea there's anything fluffy about the impact on the writer. There won't be a waking moment while he's gone that this writer won't long to be crouched over a hot typewriter spilling everything he knows about whatever has crossed his mind in the last 24 hours.

He will miss the pure pleasure of boning the little black typewriter keys one at a time and seeing the words take shape on the pretty white paper. Life will be empty without the ineffable delight of reading over the effusion when it has been torn from the typewriter like a birdling snatched from a nest.

Fingers will itch to get hold of a big black pencil and strike out a line here and write in a line there to swap one word for another to mix in a few commas and semicolons and finally to turn the thing over to the typographers.

One can only wonder what typographers think of while transmuting the written word into type metal that eventually will become printing. When mistakes occur, one can speculate that they must finally become calloused from too much familiarity with words and cease to know or care what any of the words say.

But just about that time, some typographer will mosey up with a twinkle in his knowing eye and suggest that maybe the fifth line in the third paragraph might bear closer inspection — and when this happens the fifth line in the third paragraph usually will bear re-writing.

Then comes proof-reading where all blame finally comes to a fixed focus if something has gone wrong but no credit ever is reflected if everything has "turned out all right."

Proofreaders too must become calloused and sometimes cease to register. But when they do it usually means something will bear re-writing. And so it goes, until finally another effusion gets into print, if the pressmen are willing. They have the last crack at it.

As far as this writer is concerned, none of these things will happen for the next fortnight. There will be no deadlines, no starting time no quitting time no keys to bang no rights to wrong — and no wrongs to write — while the writer is on vacation.

Political Debate Irrelevant to Issues
By Raymond Moley

As this week closes, there are also closing in thousands of local communities large and small, political campaigns of one sort or another.

Millions of words have been spoken and printed. The shouting goes on up to the end.

Then according to democratic theory, the sovereign American citizen weighs all he has heard or seen, balances the arguments, considers them all in their relation to the welfare of his city, township, state or nation and arrives at a judgment which he will duly deposit on Tuesday.

Nothing could be more ridiculous than such a theory. In fact, nobody but an insincere caricaturist would claim any such process. The whole idea is born of political palaver.

The American who really takes the trouble to vote is not always without good sound reasons for doing so. These reasons are wholly unrelated to the stuff that he has heard in what is called political debate.

In New York City the American who votes is only one of a good many who are entitled to vote. He is not always an informed or rational person, although he has more shrewdness than those who seek his vote think he has.

He is aware of the irrelevance of the discussion on he has heard. For example, aid to Israel is a last-minute "issue" in the New York mayoralty election and one candidate, Harold Riegelman, a Republican, dashed to Washington to intercede with Secretary Dulles.

WHAT HAS AID to Israel to do with running the City of New York? A dwarf what can a man in the heat of a campaign know of the delicate issues upon which the State Department must maintain its status in the Middle East?

Another issue, raised by Robert Wagner Jr., the Democratic candidate, is to do with a mysterious and still unnamed "high national figure" who wrote to the parole board of the state in behalf of Joe Bay, a convicted extortionist and former labor leader. This is equally irrelevant to the city's affairs.

A woman who is running for the New York City Council received a communication from a representative of "The American Association for the Advancement of the American Indian."

THE ORIGINAL Indian, or, in early American times, was a mythical Indian chief. But there are no Indian problems in New York outside the United Nations, and the problems there are not American.

All this is true of political debate everywhere in every generation. Nearly a century ago, Walter Bagehot in an article on Sir Robert Peel wrote: "Of all pursuits ever invented by man for repurposing the faculty of argument from the capacity of belief the art of debating is the most ineffectual."

He added that the occupational disease of statesmen possessed even Sir Robert whom he admired. "He hardly ever said anything which struck you in a moment to be true, he never uttered a sentence which for a moment anybody could deny to be plausible."

This was said of a great statesman but even mere plausibility is missing from most political gabble. Whatever incites prejudice or irrational anger or the lust for benefits is commonplace and when it is commonplace it is called "smart" politics.

IT IS IN thisaching void of reason that lies the greatest opportunity and responsibility of a free press.

The press may also excite unnecessary and irrelevant passion but it can and does inform in a way that political debate can never be expected to inform.

In the more or less quiet and free quarters of the editorial writer there can be a weighing of relevant issues and the composition of something more than plausible arguments.

The politician will answer that the press very often fails to win elections. That is especially true of New York.

The press may rejoice that while it loses battles it can win the war. It is this long-term objective that makes it so formidable and gives it such potential usefulness.

Halloween's Not the Same

Another Halloween is upon us — another occasion for colorful costumes, cute pranks and much merriment.

But the usual spirit that accompanies Halloween is missing this year—the feeling of light-heartedness and fun has been replaced by a foreboding of trouble.

Cute pranks are as much a part of Halloween as masking and costumeing, but the kind of pranks — vandalism—that has been carried on far and wide in the last several weeks leaves one with only a fear of what will come on actual Halloween night.

One can only cross his fingers and hope—and see that his own mischief makers are having clean, healthy fun tonight and tomorrow night.

But take not your fears and worries out on the little ones who are out tonight on "Beggars Night." Give them an apple or cookie and laugh when they fool you with "Trick or Treat."

A thoughtful, interested attitude now may keep them from growing into mean Halloweeners in years to come — and may keep you from being designated as a target for next year.

What the Governors Earn

When Chief Justice Warren traded his California governorship for the robes of the Supreme Court a comparison in salaries was drawn and many pointed out that financially he would have been better off staying in California.

Technically he got a $500 raise but he lost in the extras he had received as governor. The discussion led to other governors and how much they earn.

The national average pay for a governor is $12,660. One of the highest paid is Gov. Dewey of New York who also gets $25,000 annually but is in line for a raise up to a ceiling of $50,000 if the New York voters approve an amendment next week.

Other states paying $25,000 are California, Illinois and Pennsylvania. Ohio's Gov. Lausche receives $20,000.

On the other end of the scale one notes that Maryland pays its attorney general $8,000 and auditor $6,000 while the governor gets only $4,100.

The most sparsely populated state, Nevada, pays $7,600 while little Delaware pays its governor $12,000.

Referring back to extras for the California governor, along with his $25,000 salary he gets a $12,000 expense account, use of a 20-room mansion and 2 limousines, services of a cook, housekeeper, gardener, and use of an airplane and services of a personal secretary and staff of 40 workers.

As chief justice, Warren earns $25,500 and gets the services of only two secretaries and three law clerks.

And though gubernatorial pay varies widely, all but 12 states do provide governors' mansions and 12 of these make nominal allowances for housing expenses.

Birds at the Courthouse
To The Star: I am writing this letter in the hope that it may be an approach to the eventual elimination of a condition which I firmly believe could be regarded as an outrageous nuisance I am referring to the condition of the sidewalks by the courthouse caused by the hundreds of birds in the trees.

This condition certainly is conducive to good health and sanitation. It is a hideous and disgusting sight, especially on the public square and on the sidewalks which incidentally are the one and only means of getting out and in and out from the county center of activity.

This condition is not a new one in that it has aroused public opinion many times before in your newspaper. Unfortunately notwithstanding the fact that many plans and solutions have been advanced for the elimination of this situation the condition still exists. This writer is aware of the many attempts that have been made by the county commissioners to discourage the birds from roosting in these trees and some of these plans have been helpful but the fact remains that we still have the menace.

This writer sincerely believes that the only real solution is to remove the trees. Many will say that the trees are a beauty spot and shouldn't be removed. I like trees too but if this condition existed on my sidewalks, I would move to do away with the cause. I fail to recognize the beauty in a tree that has been ruined by the birds.

I believe that if the trees were removed and some shrubbery were planted in their place, the majority of people would admire the change.

With Marion now on the upward trend, we are pointing to several new buildings with no little pride and might we should let's not permit our county courthouse to be an eyesore. Yours for a better Marion.

IT IS IN thisaching void of reason that lies the greatest opportunity and responsibility of a free press.

The press may also excite unnecessary and irrelevant passion but it can and does inform in a way that political debate can never be expected to inform.

In the more or less quiet and free quarters of the editorial writer there can be a weighing of relevant issues and the composition of something more than plausible arguments.

The politician will answer that the press very often fails to win elections. That is especially true of New York.

The press may rejoice that while it loses battles it can win the war. It is this long-term objective that makes it so formidable and gives it such potential usefulness.

The Once Over
By H. I. Phillips
It's in the News

As a result of that New York milk strike many an apartment dweller now regrets deciding not to keep a cow.

Moscow says its working people are doing so well they can afford champagne. We want to know what happens the first time a Russian workman shows up late with an explanation, "I had one quart too many and had to look around for my paper hat and horn."

What do you think we saw the other day? The first TV appearance of a Virus On the Museum of Natural History program. Gave a good performance, too, and may be the one TV actor that can kill off those long commercials.

To people all over America who visit the city New York must be making a screwy impression by its peculiar attitudes toward some of its institutions best known to the tourist trade. New Yorkers, too, are a little dumb-founded. The Aquarium for generations a landmark at the end of Manhattan, is going to Coney Island — of all places! — and Grand Central Palace, long famed for its great exhibitions, saw its last show the other day and is being converted into an office building for a federal bureau. (We would not be surprised to hear the Statue of Liberty is to be transferred to the Bronx and that Madison Square Garden is closing down as a sports center in order to afford better housing for the U.S. Bureau of Fisheries.)

It was in Grand Central Palace that through the years the public saw the auto flower, motorboat and sportsman shows among scores of other spectacles, all highly helpful to business and an aid to pleasure.

From now on it will find a U.S. government official standing on the spot where the prize rose guide once stood—a group of tax collectors assembled while the rainbow trout and beavers swim in the State of Maine exhibit—a big conference where Sharky the Seal once did tricks in the moor pool—an array of stenographers and clerks taking up the space where for so many years thousands milled among the sports cars, speedboats, yachts and sailing ships.

The whole thing seems so depressingly typical of government which pretends to go out to make people happy and promote business yet deals a knockout blow to a source of joy to millions and a king size medium for industrial exploitation.

We think that a hot window should be maintained in Grand Central Palace just to keep a trace of the old time mood and that in it should be a tableau representing Uncle Sam defying Horse Sense.

Folks all over the country are asking about the U.S. government's new plan to keep a trace of the old time mood and that in it should be a tableau representing Uncle Sam defying Horse Sense.

Birds at the Courthouse
To The Star: I am writing this letter in the hope that it may be an approach to the eventual elimination of a condition which I firmly believe could be regarded as an outrageous nuisance I am referring to the condition of the sidewalks by the courthouse caused by the hundreds of birds in the trees.

This condition certainly is conducive to good health and sanitation. It is a hideous and disgusting sight, especially on the public square and on the sidewalks which incidentally are the one and only means of getting out and in and out from the county center of activity.

This condition is not a new one in that it has aroused public opinion many times before in your newspaper. Unfortunately notwithstanding the fact that many plans and solutions have been advanced for the elimination of this situation the condition still exists. This writer is aware of the many attempts that have been made by the county commissioners to discourage the birds from roosting in these trees and some of these plans have been helpful but the fact remains that we still have the menace.

This writer sincerely believes that the only real solution is to remove the trees. Many will say that the trees are a beauty spot and shouldn't be removed. I like trees too but if this condition existed on my sidewalks, I would move to do away with the cause. I fail to recognize the beauty in a tree that has been ruined by the birds.

I believe that if the trees were removed and some shrubbery were planted in their place, the majority of people would admire the change.

With Marion now on the upward trend, we are pointing to several new buildings with no little pride and might we should let's not permit our county courthouse to be an eyesore. Yours for a better Marion.

Monroe Standing Still Beats 'Moon Is Blue'

BALTIMORE (AP)—Judge Herman M. Moser told the chairman of the State Board of Motion Picture Censors yesterday that "Marilyn Monroe standing still is more suggestive than anything I saw in 'The Moon Is Blue.'"

The judge made his observation at a Circuit Court hearing of an appeal by United Artists Corp. from a statewide ban on the film, "The Moon Is Blue." The board called the movie "indecent" and "immoral."

Sydney R. Traub, board chairman, said at the hearing he considered it "suggestive—a little off color." That evoked Judge Moser's observation about Miss Monroe, who starred in "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," which passed the Maryland censors intact.

Change in Makeup Of Navies Forecast

LONDON (AP)—The use of atomic ships and guided missiles probably will alter completely the makeup and operation of future navies, according to Jane's Fighting Ships, an authoritative British naval publication.

The new 1953-54 edition of Jane's, published yesterday, said it is likely, also, there will be greater specialization in the duties of future ships. The jack-of-all-trades warship will be out of date.

Lieutenant Loses Fight For Air Force Release

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP)—An Air Force lieutenant who contended he was being illegally retained on active duty has lost his federal court fight for an order directing his release.

U. S. Dist. Judge Delmas C. Hill yesterday ruled 1st Lt. James S. Morris, Lawrence, Kan., was not entitled to the habeas corpus writ he sought.

Morris said he received written orders last Aug. 25 releasing him from the service but on the day before he was to leave the orders were orally rescinded.

The Air Force contended Morris had applied for special training in an aircraft observer school and completion of the course carried with it a commitment to remain in the service for three more years.

It said the written orders Morris received directing his release were the result of "an administrative error."

Facts about this Home Rule Charter Commission

Every Ward and both political parties are equally represented. This Commission is serving your community without compensation. Your YES Vote is your approval for them to represent your interest in preparing a Home Rule Charter which will contribute most for the type of city government which is in step with Marion's growth. To date, this Commission is not committed to any specified type of Home Rule government. Their recommendations are to be submitted in complete printed form for your review and approval next year.

First, please understand you are not voting for a change of our municipal government at this time. Instead—your YES VOTE indicates your interest in having a Commission of 15 men and women (representing all sections of the city and both political parties) to prepare a Home Rule Charter tailored to Marion's growing needs.

This Home Rule Charter recommendation to be offered for your review and final approval or rejection at the November election in 1954.

Your YES VOTE indicates you believe in ECONOMY and EFFICIENCY in city government operation. It also shows your interest in the benefits of long-range planning and budgeting—thus providing the means for improvements in municipal services.

37 Ohio cities now have the benefits of a Home Rule Charter. Some charters provide for the Council, City Manager Plan—others for the Mayor, Council Plan—and others are combinations tailored to the needs of the particular city.

For your information, this Charter Commission is not committed to any specific plan at this time. We owe it to ourselves and the future progress of our city to VOTE YES.

Let's take a look at the Commission's recommendations. We can adopt or reject them in 1954.

Marion's Growth over 50 years makes Municipal Government a big operation . . .

Since 1903, when the present form of city government was established Marion's population has more than tripled. Industry and employment has increased on a similar ratio in the past 25 years. Retail sales alone were $81,755,000 last year, which is approximately 7 times greater than in 1939. 542 retail stores and other commercial establishments employ 4,750 persons . . . industry employs an additional 12,107 persons. Marion's operating expenditures have increased from $38,342 in 1912 to $1,537,726 in 1952 . . . over 40 times greater. Municipal services have swelled in equal proportions. Sewer, traffic and other municipal services not in existence 50 years ago, now require special direction. City officials now supervise over 300 persons. The increase in our municipal problems and their complexity indicate the desirability of re-examining our system of local government.

$125 Million-a-Year Industry

Pork-Pie Doffed to National Hat Week

NEW YORK (AP)—I was going to let National Hat Week pass by this year with no more than a tip of my beret.

Then I received the following letter from the Hat Research Foundation:

"All over the globe white men wear bowler hats, black men wear fedoras, and brown men wear straw hats. They are shouldering through sandstorms in Australia to trap rabbits, snow-shoeing under the frozen birches in Siberia in search of white hare, herding sheep for wool and hat leathers in Argentina, raising mulberry leaves for silkworms in China, scraping twigs for shellac in India, and felling tall poplars for our hat blocks in the Tennessee hills."

Well, after reading that, a guy would have to be an ungrateful cad indeed if he didn't get out his battered old gray $3.95 fedora and shed a tear of admiration for the farthing that made it all possible.

So, gentlemen, a ringing toast to one of man's oldest allies against sun, wind and weather—the hat.

Some folks, including those who hate to fork out two bits to park their pork-pie every time they go to a night club, say the hat is going the way of the vest and high button shoes and even magicians will have to find something else to pull their rabbits from.

But a few figures tend to knock this theory into a cocked hat. Hat manufacturing in America alone is a $125 million dollar a year industry. More people in the world still wear hats than shoes.

The dog may be man's best friend but the best friend of men's hats today is the American woman. A poll of 100 women, says the Hat Research Foundation, showed that 84 believed a man should "wear a hat at least some of the time."

A majority thought he ought to wear one to work.

The foundation also found that only one out of seven women had influenced her boy friend to give up hats and bare his curls to the breezes.

Do hat salesmen like to have a husband bring his wife along when he buys a hat? They do indeed. In 8 out of 10 such cases the hat stays sold. But if a husband buys one by himself more often than not he returns it sheepishly saying, "Wife didn't like it. Lemme try another one."

Famous people sometimes popularize hats, and hats sometimes popularize people, including presidents. His "Rough Rider Hat" helped make Teddy Roosevelt famous. A brown derby did the same for Al Smith. President Eisenhower's homburg this year re-placed in public favor the top silk hat which had reigned for 150 years.

You may wonder what Eisenhower has under his hat next but it's no secret the size is 7 1/4, the same as Woodrow Wilson's.

The Republican Party holds the honors for both the smallest and largest presidential heads since the Civil War—from Rutherford B. Hayes 7 1/16 to James A. Garfield and William Howard Taft 7 3/4. Calvin Coolidge and William McKinley had the smallest heads in the White House since Hayes—matched at 7 1/4.

Both Teddy Roosevelt creator of the phrase "My hat is in the ring" and his distant cousin Franklin D. Roosevelt wore 7 3/4 hats, providing phenology students a puzzle as to which is most likely to run in a family—the same size husband or the same brand of politics.

That 7 1/4 hat size also takes in, besides the two Roosevelts, U.S. Grant, Warren G. Harding, Herbert Hoover and Harry S. Truman.

As to George Washington and Thomas Jefferson I don't know. Anyway, didn't they wear wigs? Couldn't find out about Abe Lincoln's hat size either, but he preferred a natty beaver stovepipe.

It would appear, from the statistics available, that any mother trying to rear her boy to be President ought to tell the lad to concentrate on growing a size 7 3/4 head. That'll put the odds in his favor.

We'll have to leave the question of how big he should let his feet grow until we get to National Shoe Week. We're doing nothing but honoring our hat this week except for a bit of preliminary punning to tune us up for National Cat Week, starting Sunday.

Red 'Beauties' Picked For Their Party Work

CHICAGO (AP)—A former Czechoslovakian beauty queen says pie-eyed beauty contests behind the Iron Curtain are not the same as in the United States.

"The Communists are trying to set new beauty standards based on points gained for girls' work for the party," said the former Nikki Nicolai, who was Miss Prague of 1946.

"Perfect legs or bust measurements don't count any more compared to distributing so many thousand pamphlets or meeting a quota in a factory. Communist 'beauty' judges are more interested in how many bricks a girl can lay in a day than looking at her eyes."

Miss Nicolai is the wife of Robert V. Johnson, a Chicago engineer whom she met while he was a soldier in Europe.

Baby Arrives Okay, but What Complications!

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mother and baby are doing nicely—but the rest of the family . . . Oh! Mrs. Stanley Smith, 21, started it all off by telling her husband she was going to have her baby in a little while. Smith took it from there.

He and friend Anthony Luce took off in Luce's convertible to get a doctor.

Too late, the baby arrived—so Smith's brother Charles took off in his car to get Smith. He found him at the doctor's office delivered the message and started back home. Halfway there he collided with a Reading Railroad freight train.

Along came Stanley and Luce in the other car and brother Charles hopped in and away they went—for two blocks—where Luce's machine collided with an oil truck then with a tractor unit or then caught fire.

Police and firemen arrived, extinguished the blaze and saw brother Charles off to North St. Hospital, where he was treated for minor injuries.

P. S. It was a girl.

Zoo Needs Interpreter For 'Italian' Elephant

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Zoo will need an interpreter when a 3-year-old elephant it has ordered arrives next week.

The elephant, born in India but reared in Milan, Italy, responds only to Italian commands and ignores those given in English.

"She'll have to change her ways," said Zoo Director Arthur R. Watson. "Just give our elephant translator a few weeks . . ."

Likens Chapel Name Changed

Members Affiliated With Covenant Church

At a meeting of the congregation Wednesday night, name of the church in the Likens community north of Marion was changed to Likens Covenant Church.

This will identify the former Likens Chapel with the denomination in which it is now affiliated, the Evangelical Mission Covenant Church of America with headquarters at Chicago. The original Likens Chapel of 1871 was of the Methodist denomination. A change in status was brought about when the government acquired the area in which the church was located for the Scioto Ordnance Plant during World War II. The church was reopened under home missions work of the Covenant denomination in 1930. Location of the church is at Poie Lane and Likens Rd.

New pastor of the church, arrived here recently, is Rev. Warren W. Lindstrom. For Sunday morning worship service at 11, he has announced his subject as "Looking Unto Jesus." The mid-week service Wednesday night will be held at the parsonage at 257, Hune Ave. in Marion. Study will be in the fourth chapter of Mark.

Church in Marion Sets Kindergarten

Approximately 20 children of pre-school age have been registered for a week-day kindergarten set to open at Epworth Methodist Church Monday morning. The project is sponsored by the church school board of education, with Miss Margaret Huffman, the church's director of education, and the pastor, Rev. Walter C. Eyster, as supervising consultants.

Teachers will be Mrs. Guy Rank and formerly in public school work and a private kindergarten previously, and her assistant, Mrs. Ervin Porter. The place will be the church's specially equipped Kindergarten Room, and time, 9 a. m. to 11:30 each day through the school year.

An approved unit of study for four and five-year-olds, "Stories About Jesus," will be followed. This was designed to give small children an insight into the character of "One who lived long ago and loved children, teaching them to be kind and friendly, and to go about doing good." It will be illustrated by opportunities to "practice kindness, friendliness and helpfulness in specific situations."

The school will be carried on through co-operation of the parents of those children signed up for the classes, and others interested may place names on a waiting list at the church office.

Clark

Point graduation in 1917 to his formal retirement tomorrow, brought him command of combat troops during two world wars and in Korea.

It also brought him many decorations and much glory—as well as the center spots in two once-raging disputes, one military, the other religious.

Powerful Force

Despite critics and criticism, he remained a powerful force in the shaping of the American Army, and earlier this month came home from Korea to one of New York's celebrated ticker tape welcomes.

He moves on now to become superintendent later this year at the Citadel, the famous Southern military school at Charleston, S. C.

It was just about two years ago that former President Truman named Clark ambassador to the Vatican, thereby bringing on the storm of protest that did not abate until the appointment was withdrawn.

While the United States has had representatives at the Vatican, it has never sent a full-fledged ambassador to the Roman Catholic state. Protestant groups argued that such action would violate the cherished American tradition of separation of church and state.

Italian Campaign Criticized

Seven years earlier, during three bloody days at the Rapido River in Italy, Clark gave an order which has been heatedly criticized. In his own defense, Clark called the order a "calculated risk" and said he would give it again under the same circumstances.

His order, as 5th Army commander in January 1944, sent the 36th Infantry Division in a spearhead attack across the river toward German and Italian forces. The division was badly mauled. The attack failed.

Clark's most recent assignment was in Tokyo as United Nations Far East commander, a post he held from May 1952 until this month.

Clark was born in Madison Barracks, N. Y., the son of an Army colonel. He has two children, a daughter and a son—a three-year-old son who was born at a recent wedding the general stood as best man.

Service Club Members

John Persona, physical culturist from Milwaukee, Wis., addressed members of the Y Men's Service Club at their weekly meeting in the YMCA Thursday night.

Introduced by Glenn Walraven, his talk concerned physical culture by exercising, breathing and the proper diet.

Guests were Robert Toss, Howard Williams, Floyd Gehres, Roy Pierce and Leo Vats.

Youth To Appear Before Authorities

A 14-year-old Marion youth will appear before the juvenile officer this afternoon. At 7:05 Thursday evening, he was found by police, proving around the county jail. He was reported to have told police he had just passed some stationery through a window to one of the prisoners. Police took a dim view of his generosity and ordered him to appear today.

Edward Flach, Harry Kennard, James W. Atts, Robert A. Smith, William O'Hara, Edwin Carey, Thomas Finch and Delbert Rush will be on the refreshment committee. Publicity is being handled by Norman C. Roetger.

Dancing will follow. There will be no admission charge and the Lions Club invites every one in the Green Camp community to take part in this Halloween celebration, which is one of the first projects undertaken by the newly organized club.

Methodists Plan Training Sessions

A training conference session for Methodist Churches of Marion County will be held Sunday night at Epworth Church in Marion. Rev. Harold Kellogg, Lima District superintendent, will be in charge, and a team of guest leaders will direct consideration of problems of the four commissions and pastoral relations committees. The commissions include education, missions, finance, and membership and evangelism.

Devotions will be led by Rev. L. Young of Prospect, and the superintendent will conduct a closing worship service following meetings of the discussion groups. Miss Sally Chesser of Washington, D. C., now engaged as director of children's work for the Ohio Conference of the Methodist Church, will meet with the education commission and teachers and Church School officers from the churches attending. Besides the Prospect and Epworth Church representation, other members from Green Camp, LaRue, Marion, Prospect Street, Wesley, and Asbury Churches, Morral, New Bloomington-Meeker, Norton, and Waldo will be present. Rev. Walter C. Eyster is the host pastor. Time of the conference will be 7:30.

Charter

Other arguments listed for a charter as subclassifications of these five points are: under one, the present Home Rule Charter committee recommends continuation of the present ward system of community representation in connection with some form of city manager government; under 2, encourages fulltime trained officials to serve in city offices and department capacities, thus offering the opportunity for more efficient municipal operation; and under 3, permits council to set aside funds for specific long-range needs, and protects the security of all pension plans to municipal employees.

WHILE THE ANSWER to the second question will remain for the charter commission itself to answer, there are several general rules of procedure commonly followed.

The first and most important is that this commission must submit its proposals to the voters for adoption or rejection within a year from the date on which it is elected to serve. This means that if Marion voters elect a charter commission next Tuesday, then the commission must present whatever charter plan it proposes to the voters at the November general election next year.

Ohio law further requires that a copy of the proposed charter be mailed to each registered voter not less than 30 days prior to the November, 1934 election.

UNDOUBTEDLY the charter commission, to effectively serve its purpose, will want to study all phases of municipal government, and contact all officials and employees of the city and county. In addition, the commission must likely hold public meetings to present its suggestions for a charter and to learn what public opinion is on the various ideas. Unless this procedure were followed a charter could be presented that would not meet with the approval of the voters and in that event the work of the commission would be so much wasted effort.

ANOTHER QUESTION which arises is, how much is all this going to cost Marion taxpayers? Up to the present time the only cost has been that of printing the ballots which will be used this November.

Only other cost in the event the question is given an affirmative vote will be that of printing and mailing proposed charter to the qualified electors of the city.

There are no other costs. The 15 members of the charter commission all will serve without pay.

THE HOME RULE CHARTER

Study Committee stresses that "it should be emphasized that this fall the only question is whether or not the commission should be created." This commission will have no power to change any phase of city government without voter approval. It is only a suggestive device to frame a proposed charter, the committee explains.

The Study Committee points out that there are 15 persons nominated for election to the charter commission and that there are 15 to be elected. It adds that any citizen of Marion had the right to file his or her candidacy for election to membership on the charter commission.

Of the 15 nominated, there are at least two from each of the city's six wards. Seven of these persons are Republicans and eight are Democrats.

Names of the nominees are: Walter D. Moore, Lawrence Sager, Dr. Frederick Merchant, Robert Kibby, Max Birnbaum, John J. Wislizer, H. Francis McDaniell, Carl F. Haberman, George Johnson, Mary Birch, Perry Bachelder, Henry Mckley, Robert Bush, Edith Brown, and Roy Waddell.

The Quartermaster Corps bought more than 42,000,000 pounds of GI soap for the U. S. Army during the past year. Price per one-pound bar on a recent procurement order was slightly more than seven-tenths of one cent.

Plaintiff Awarded Claim of $2,720

A finding in favor of the plaintiff was returned by a jury hearing a civil suit Thursday in Common Pleas Court.

Judgment in the amount of $2,720, asked by Wooster B. Denman from Frank G. Gegenheimer as executor of the estate of William C. Selander was allowed by the jury.

Denman claimed the money was due him from the estate for personal services, care and attention he gave Selander prior to his death.

Denman was represented by Riley Hall, and Gegenheimer was represented by John Clark.

Safety Council Plans Annual Award Dinner

Appointment of a committee to plan the second annual award dinner was made at the Wednesday luncheon meeting of the Industrial Safety Council of the Chamber of Commerce at Hotel Harding.

Serving as chairman of the committee is George McElroy, the safety director of the Marion Alma Shumaker Co. Other members of the committee are Floyd Gehes, safety director of Marion Industries Division of Motor Products Co.; Philip Brown, safety director of Marion Metal Products Co.; and Ernest O'Neil, superintendent of Arco Expansion Bolt Co.

Allan Merlon was chosen chairman of the Council, and McElroy was chosen vice-chairman. Program Chairman Emil Lisak, occupational coordinator at Harding High School, introduced Dr. Allen Schuller, school psychologist.

Dr. Schuller discussed "Psychological Devices As Applied to Industrial Safety."

Cited for having had no lost-time accidents during the month of September were the following Marion firms: Alloy Cast Steel Co., American Malleable Castings Co., Baker Wood Preserving Co., Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, Erie Railroad, New York Central Railroad, Harding High School Vocational Shop, Monsanto Chemical Co., Ohio Fuel Gas Co., Ohio Edison Co., Fairfield Engineering Co., The Ohio Co., Huber Manufacturing Co., Marion Metal Products, Arco Expansion Bolt Co., Marion Machine Tool Co., and Quaker Oats Co.

The next meeting of the Council will be held Nov. 11 at the Shaggy-La Restaurant at the airport. Program chairman for that meeting will be H. C. Young of the B. F. Goodrich Co.

2 Fire Runs Made By Marion Trucks

Two calls were answered during the past 24 hours by the Marion Fire Department. In one case, the fire was out on arrival, and in the other no fire was located.

At 4 p. m. firemen received a call from Mrs. Lula Caylor of 833 Leader St. reporting there had been a fire in the house. Chief Owen A. Siffert answered the call and found portions of window shades and a rug had burned. Loss was estimated at $125. Cause of the blaze was not determined.

This morning at 7 o'clock, residents near the Baldwin and Schlichter Co. 159 N. Greenwood St., called firemen and reported seeing smoke pouring from the building. Upon arrival, firemen found the "smoke" was actually steam used by the company to dry cement blocks. The call was answered by men from the Central Station.

It is estimated that the average American is 16 pounds overweight.

Colorful Galion Parade Watched by Thousands

Special to The Star

GALION — Galion's biggest parade in years, combining the annual Mardi Gras and local observance of Ohio's sesquicentennial, was held Thursday night as thousands of spectators lined the streets for more than six city blocks.

Some 60 units, including numerous floats and displays, and 10 bands from the vicinity, in addition to many masqueraded marchers participated in the parade which wound down Galion's main street and finally passed the reviewing stand on the public square.

Miss Betty Columbus, high school senior and former Marion resident, who was queen for the gala event, and her six attendants highlighted the parade. Miss Columbus is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Columbus of 450 1/2 N. Main St., Marion.

Two most honored participants in the parade were Gov. Frank J. Lausche and Galion Mayor Jay F. Nichols who rode in the old-fashioned 1838 stagecoach owned by Alma Shumaker Co. Other members of the committee are Floyd Gehes, safety director of Marion Industries Division of Motor Products Co.; Philip Brown, safety director of Marion Metal Products Co.; and Ernest O'Neil, superintendent of Arco Expansion Bolt Co.

Allan Merlon was chosen chairman of the Council, and McElroy was chosen vice-chairman. Program Chairman Emil Lisak, occupational coordinator at Harding High School, introduced Dr. Allen Schuller, school psychologist.

Dr. Schuller discussed "Psychological Devices As Applied to Industrial Safety."

The next meeting of the Council will be held Nov. 11 at the Shaggy-La Restaurant at the airport. Program chairman for that meeting will be H. C. Young of the B. F. Goodrich Co.

Children who received prizes in the afternoon parade were Byron derlin, Janet James, Linda McCarty, Gary Blair Musselman, Denise Cotsman, John and Dolores Cline, Sharilyn Newey and Gary Lewis.

The large cross, which tops the spire of St. Mary Catholic Church, was put back in place this morning after undergoing repairs and repainting.

The star of the show was C. A. Miller whose job it was to place the 70-pound cross in place some 175 feet up in the air. Pupils and pedestrians who happened by, made up a gallery of onlookers as the cross, carefully padded and wrapped in stout canvas, was pulled to the top of the steeple. Miller, working without a safety belt, was assisted from inside the steeple by two of his workmen.

When the cross was in place the school pupils sang the hymn "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name," and at the close a cheer went up for Miller.

The cross was taken down about 10 months ago. It has been repaired and repainted with gold leaf.

Number One spot in any circus, gave the gallery a breath-taking moment when he stood on the arms of the cross and raised his hands in the air.

Nursing a slightly sprained ankle after turning it when he stepped out of a car yesterday, he says he feels safer on church steeples.

State Patrolmen Report 1 Accident

A car, truck and milk shed were damaged in an accident on Route 23, four miles south of Upper Sandusky, in Wyandot County, at 1:35 p. m. yesterday, state patrolmen from the Marion station reported this morning.

There were no injuries.

One P. Miller, 29, of near Upper Sandusky, was the truck driver, while Thomas Small, 77, of Ada, was the driver of the car.

Small was parked on the west side of the road facing south, and started to turn around when he collided with the south-bound truck. After the collision the truck veered off and struck a milk shed owned by Mrs. Edward Orton Jr. of Columbus.

Small was cited to appear before Mayor Harold Koehler of Upper Sandusky Saturday morning to answer a charge of making an improper start from a parked position.

Officiating judges for the evening parade were: Fire Chief O. A. Siffert of Marion fire department, Mayor Arthur Ward of Mt. Gilead, and Mayor Frank P. Sater of Bucyrus. They awarded the following prizes: first prize, historical float, South elementary school, and first for Mardi Gras, Crawsford County Children's Home.

Other floats receiving prizes in Schlichter Co. 159 N. Greenwood St., called firemen and reported seeing smoke pouring from the building. Upon arrival, firemen found the "smoke" was actually steam used by the company to dry cement blocks. The call was answered by men from the Central Station.

Costume prizes, historical, went to Evelyn Sargel, Nancy Seckel and John Schallig, Peg and Dick Murphy, and a group from Bucyrus composed of Bud and Pat Barnhart, Bob and Jean Garner, Rita Schnable, John Rehn, and Mard.

The jack-o-lanterns were used to decorate the tables. It was the group's project of the year. The group's next meeting will be Nov. 10. All members are asked to bring different colored leaves to the meeting.

Police Report Two Traffic Accidents

Two non-injury accidents were reported today by Marion police. Both happened Thursday, one in the afternoon, the other in the evening.

No accidents in Marion County were reported in the morning by the Marion station of the state highway patrol and the sheriff's office.

At 3:25 p. m. the left front fender of a car driven by Mrs. Mildred F. Scott of 386 Bryant St. was damaged in an accident involving another car driven by Gerald J. Rogan 24, of Columbus. The accident happened at N. Main and Fairground St.

Rogan was arrested and charged with reckless operation after Mrs. Scott told policemen he passed her in the intersection. Rogan's car had struck her as Police records show Mrs. Scott was stopped before the accident and Rogan was traveling about 25 miles per hour before the impact. The right rear door and panel of Rogan's car were damaged. He is scheduled to appear in court Tuesday.

Describing this year's campaign as a "great achievement" despite the failure to reach the goal, J. B. There has been no falldown on the part of the workers and the spirit throughout has been fine, he stated.

While we are not going to have a re-campaign, the workers are not going to stop he added and predicted that the present figures would be increased before the contributions stopped coming in. He sounded a cheering note by recalling that last year, after the final report meeting, something more than $5,000 was received in contributions. He asked the workers to continue their jobs and help bring the figures nearer the goal. Coming as a surprise was his announcement that the Marion Cancer Society had voluntarily reduced its quota of $13,500 by $3,000.

A rising vote of appreciation was given Chairman McGraw by the assembly of approximately 90 persons.

Most Companies Report Higher Profits This Year

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The boom—end or not—has brought golden profits to many industries. Earnings statements now pouring in show that nearly three out of every four companies did better in the first nine months this year than in the same period a year ago.

Their combined earnings so far are running 18 per cent ahead of last year.

General Motors, spurred by big auto production and by defense orders, turned in 17 per cent higher profits after taxes—and taxes topped one billion dollars. Its net income for the nine months at 453 million dollars makes it the most profitable industrial firm in the world. The Motors group as a whole is running 16 per cent ahead.

The first 350 corporations to report show that combined after-tax profits total $4,081,110,209, compared with $3,464,993,177 in the first nine months of 1952.

But 100 didn't do as well, his year reflecting in many cases a turn-down in their particular industries which started some time ago. And seven ran in the red—the same number as did last year.

Hundreds of more statements are yet to come and the earnings picture may be different. Many of the companies also showed they were slowing down in the last few months. Their booming business early in the year colored the nine months report.

Steel companies show the greatest increase over last year as was expected due to the big strike pulling them down in 1952. They are running 73 per cent ahead this year. Increased prices and near capacity output pushed some to near record highs.

Rails are 20 per cent better off in the profits column than a year ago, helped by good traffic and higher rates. Many however show that September gross revenues declined.

Other showing good gains this year include metalworking companies, aircraft, and supplies electrical appliances and chemicals—all hitched in to greater or lesser extent with the defense program.

Even textiles show profits 24 per cent better than a year ago—but mainly because last year was so bad. Four textile companies operated at a loss so far this year. Utilities, serving a growing population and a booming business world pulled profits 12 per cent higher this year.

Coal leads the casualties with a 57 per cent drop in profits compared with last year. Competition with other fuels, surplus stocks above ground, and higher operating costs plague the mines.

Farm equipment dropped reflecting the decline in farm incomes. Drug companies made 10 per cent less profit this year. Here growing competition and in some instances over-supply of miracle drugs took a toll.

Although the overall list shows healthy gains, there wasn't an industry group in which every company did better this year. Even the booming steel industry showed three small companies down a little due to special conditions.

Third quarter earnings in many cases weren't as good as second. And some doubt is expressed over fourth quarter earnings topping those of a year ago by much of a margin.

But when the entire year is tallied 1953 may well look like a better one profit wise than 1952.

Murder Trial Of Ada Youth To Go to Jury

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The trial of 20-year-old Robert Stober of Ada, Okla., charged with the murder of George Fremin was expected to go to the jury today.

Two physicians' rebuttal witnesses called after the defense rested its case last night, testified that Stober was sane at the time of the holdup which brought the death of Fremin, 53, at his liquor store on Oct. 4, 1952.

Dr. Nicholas Chetta, Orleans parish coroner, and Dr. Charles Holbrook, a psychiatrist, said that Stober is absolutely sane now and was sane at the time of the crime. They were on the court-appointed lunacy commission which tested Stober's sanity.

Dr. H. R. Unsworth, a neuro-psychiatrist, testifying for the defense, had said Wednesday night that because of a psychic seizure at the time Fremin was shot Stober was legally insane at the time of the crime.

Dr. H. Tharp Posey, a psychiatrist, also testifying for the defense yesterday, supported Dr. Unsworth's claim. Dr. Posey said that Stober is an epileptic and there was a "very strong possibility" he may have had an epileptic seizure when the gun was fired. He added that would have made him legally insane.

Three character witnesses from Ada preceded Dr. Posey on the stand. They were the Rev. Richard Hoch, a Catholic priest, Sheriff Peter Brown of Huron County, Ohio, and James Orders, a business man. Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Stober, stepfather and mother of the defendant, also testified.

Benson Indicates Acreage for Corn May Be Restricted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The 1954 corn crop probably will be subject to acreage controls, although the acreage question may not be settled until next February.

This was the effect of an announcement yesterday by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who said he is going ahead with selecting data which would be needed if corn acreage controls may be imposed. He must decide by Feb. 1.

Such controls were last used in 1950. Market quotations for corn have never been so low.

'Mike' Not Dead, Bad Word Gets Out on Air

NEW YORK (AP)—The Mutual Broadcasting System was delighted with phone calls last night after an obscene word was heard on the air during the broadcast of a new program.

A network spokesman said an engineer in its Washington, D. C. station (WVDC) failed to cut off a live microphone on time and the word was voiced by an engineer or an announcer at the station. They were not identified.

The incident occurred during the 15-minute broadcast by Fulton Lewis Jr.

Voters To Decide $500 Million Question

Highway Bond Issue Backers Hopeful Despite Strong Opposition by Lausche

By REED SMITH

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Boosters of a $500 million dollar bond issue to speed arterial highway building predict solid approval by voters in Tuesday's election.

A spokesman said the forecast stemmed from widespread sentiment for a proposal to change the state Constitution so the bonds could be issued.

He asserted the sentiment prevailed in the face of opposition by Gov. Frank J. Lausche who urged road building on a pay as you go basis, instead of pledging future tax revenues to hurry construction, Lausche pointed up the objections of many bond issue opponents.

The proponent's spokesman was J. Russell Lloyd of Columbus, chairman of a statewide group known as the Adequate Highways Amendment Committee.

Lloyd is secretary of the Ohio State Automobile Assn., the first of such organizations to endorse the highway speed-up proposal.

Represented on the highways amendment committee besides Lloyd's association are these organizations:

Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants, Ohio Automobile Dealers

Assn., Ohio Trucking Assn., Ohio Petroleum Marketers Assn., Ohio Chamber of Commerce, Ohio Municipal League, Portland Cement Assn., Ohio State Pharmaceutical Assn., Ohio Dairy Products Assn., Ohio Assn. of Retail Lumber Dealers, Ohio Hardware Assn., Petroleum Industry Committee of Ohio, Ohio State Medical Assn., Ohio Assn. of Real Estate Boards and Ohio Hotels Assn.

Amendment committee members have concentrated their campaign in 17 counties casting more than 20,000 votes in "off-year" elections but Lloyd said 58 clubs are active in more than half of Ohio's 88 counties.

Campaigners use radio and television programs, newspaper and billboard advertising, direct mail and speakers at various meetings. Lloyd said all those mediums are used in Dayton and many of them in other major cities.

Leading Cleveland department stores included bond issue literature in their packages and mail, he reported, while in Columbus the auto club concentrated on appeals by mail.

The last Legislature placed the proposal on the ballot to give all voters the final say on the big bond issue. Because the bond issue would exceed the $750,000 state debt limit fixed in the Constitution, voters must approve the change.

If a majority of voters call for the bond issue, the Legislature will be required to return in session next January to get the arterial road construction program underway.

Legislators must approve actual issuance of the bonds, limited to no more than 125 million dollars worth a year, and give final sanction to the various construction projects.

No bond could be issued after March 31, 1962, and all must be paid off by 1972.

Lloyd explained that the highway bonds would be different from those issued to pay bonuses to World War II veterans. The state treasury stood behind those bonds. The highway bonds would be retired from new taxes on gasoline and trucks that already are in effect.

Lausche opposed going into debt to the tune of a half billion dollars at a time when the Northern Ohio Turnpike is under construction and a Cincinnati-Coronet turnpike in the talking stage.

He said the east-west turnpike would help relieve traffic congestion and that pay as you go construction was a sounder way to finance other new roads.

But bond issue proponents contend present major highways are deteriorating faster than they can be re-built under pay as you go.

The reason, they said, is a 50 percent increase in Ohio motor vehicle registrations to 3,438,000 in the last decade. The result, they indicated, was a jump in state highway accidents from 19,933 to 28,526 in the last five years and in traffic deaths from 737 to 891.

To opposition arguments that bond interest will be a heavy burden to taxpayers, proponents assert that savings on maintenance and repairs needed to keep roads usable would more than offset interest expense.

The Highways Amendment Committee claims the bond issue would give Ohio the roads it needs in 10 years instead of in 20 years under pay as you go. It sums up its arguments on the proposal this way:

Vote yes—to ride while you pay; vote no—to wait and ride after you pay.

Epworth Families Hear

Director of State Council

Epworth Methodist Church families and officials greeted Rev. Sidney A. Mayer from the denomination's Ohio Area staff in Columbus Wednesday night at a church dinner, and heard him outline the organization and program of the Methodist Church. He is the director of the newly organized Inter-

Board Council of the area, and member of Bishop Hazen G. Werner's staff. Women of the church, headed by Mrs. William McGee, WSCS president, served the dinner. This was last of a series for October.

For a program, C. H. Indoe presided, and singing of old hymns was led by Mrs. Indoe. Announcement was made by C. M. Rogers of a mass meeting for the Lima District Nov. 5 at Grace Church in Lima to hear Bishop Werner who returned recently from Korea. Remarks were given by Mrs. F. L. Thomas, Miss Margaret Huffman, and Robert F. Williams who attended the Methodist Town Hall meeting with Bishop Werner at Columbus.

Following Rev. Mayer's talk, those present met in Quest groups, with the guest minister attending the official board group where L. L. Dickey presided. For the closing assembly period in the Service Chapel, the pastor, Rev. Eyster, gave a meditation, and Scripture and singing were followed by a message of encouragement by Rev. Mayer.

Sen. Byrd Forces Face Torrid Battle in Virginia

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Virginia Democratic organization of Sen. Harry F. Byrd, spurred by what it regards as the first serious Republican challenge in 24 years, is fighting to keep the governorship in the party.

The campaigning leading up to next Tuesday's general election is in blaring contrast to the apathy of most previous years, when everyone knew the governor had been selected when the Democratic nominee was picked. Democrats have ruled in Virginia since Reconstruction days.

But this time the Republicans have put up a proven vote getter, GOP National Committeeman Theodore Roosevelt Dalton, 52, whose predominantly Democratic district keeps sending him back to the State Senate. The Republicans have written a platform that has drawn praise from some Democrats and have bucked down to a vote-hustling job unmatched since their latest big, though unsuccessful, effort in 1929.

The Democratic candidate, blessed by the Byrd organization, is Thomas B. Stanley, a former congressman and a businessman whose main campaign plank calls for continuation of "sound fiscal policies."

Some Republicans concede their present big effort is a "now or never attempt to make a lasting political realignment out of the 1952 Eisenhower sweep in Virginia—helped along by Byrd's refusal to support the national Democratic ticket."

And an 11th-hour sensation may have given the Republicans a political asset.

Sidney S. Kellam, director of Stanley's campaign, was indicted 19 days before the election date on federal income tax evasion charges involving returns of a Virginia Beach taxi corporation in which he holds stock.

Kellam resigned as campaign chief, protested his innocence and charged the indictment grew out of of a Republican plot to embarrass the Democratic campaign.

Stanley, too, cried "politics." So did Byrd, who predicts Stanley's election by "a normal majority." But Byrd departed from his personal practice of no public participation in state campaigns and twice took to the radio on Stanley's behalf.

Dalton's platform includes abolition of the poll tax, raising teachers' salaries, tightening of absent voters' laws and jailing of drunk drivers.

Stanley has said he is for higher teachers' salaries and any necessary amendments to absent voters' legislation.

And an 11th-hour sensation may have given the Republicans a political asset.

By George Sokolsky

Alexander Orlov worked in the Supreme Court of Soviet Russia; he became a diplomat and was the Russian counter-intelligence chief.

ing to counter-intelligence and guerrilla warfare behind the enemy lines.

When he saw that many who had been Stalin's colleagues and whose loyalty was unquestionable were being murdered, he escaped before his number came up. For many years, he has been in hiding.

Orlov has now written a most valuable book, "The Secret History of Stalin's Crimes," which is an objective report, written about whom he knew and worked with whom he characterized with insight and understanding.

HE ESTABLISHES the authenticity of his material in this and subsequent paragraphs:

"I have written down the directives which Stalin personally gave to the NKVD chiefs at the conference in the Kremlin; his instructions to the NKVD inquirers; his methods of breaking the resistance of Lenin's friends and exhorting from them false confessions."

"I have recorded Stalin's personal negotiations with some of his victims and the words actually representing the Soviet Union."

spoken by the doomed men behind the walls of the Lubianka Prison.

"I obtained these closely guarded secrets from the NKVD interrogators themselves, some of whom had, in the past, been subordinates to me. Among them was my former assistant Mironov, chief of the economic administration of the OGPU; the NKVD, who had been one of Stalin's chief aides in the preparation of the Moscow trials and the foreign department of the NKVD."

THE CHARACTER of Stalin stands out like a horrible, frightening nightmare; this man was devoid of all moral qualities.

He killed his wife; he hated his eldest son, who disappeared in Germany during World War II; he killed his brother-in-law; he killed his two most intimate personal friends.

He killed his political associates; he killed the men who did the killing for him, Yagoda and Yezhov; he killed the women and children of the families of the men he killed. Names, dates, trials, purges, common he knew and worked with whom he characterized with insight and understanding.

ONE OF HIS instruments was a sonal negotiations with some of his victims and the words actually representing the Soviet Union.

"I have written down the directives which Stalin personally gave to the NKVD chiefs at the conference in the Kremlin; his instructions to the NKVD inquirers; his methods of breaking the resistance of Lenin's friends and exhorting from them false confessions."

sons, to whose dastardly ability Dr. Charles W. Mayo called attention in his brilliant United Nations speech.

Orlov and Vishinsky worked together in the supreme court. Vishinsky, who attacks our country regularly with filthy venom, was in his younger years, a bootlicker, and apple polisher, a vindictive careerist. And the facts are given in detail.

I know Orlov. Some day he ought to write a book on the Spanish Civil war, particularly the part played by Americans in the Abraham Lincoln Brigade.

This story has never been told in full. Also, it would be of great value to have him make a comparison between the espionage and counter-intelligence methods used by Soviet Russia and the United States.

THE RUSSIANS have done such a magnificent job in the United States, infiltrating our government and the institutions of our people, stealing our atom bomb and our radar developments, that the pattern of work ought to be described to our people.

It is not often that one of Orlov's experience lives long enough to come over to our side.

Gouzenko, who exposed the spying in Canada, and Kravchenko, who provided some data on the spying in the United States, while their contributions were of value, never attained as high positions or such intimate personal relations as Orlov. And they did not know Stalin.

Today, other men like Orlov are in hiding in various parts of the world. They might be encouraged, if they see what Orlov has done, to fill in some of the blank spaces in this carnival of murder.

Steelworkers in Canton Stage Protest on Layoffs

CANTON, Ohio, P.—Twenty CIO plant here have been idled. At the Republic plant in Massillon more than 900 of the force of 4,000 are not working. The Hoover Co. plant here has laid off about 400.

Estimates on the number of steel workers idled at Timken, Republic Steel Corp. and other plants in the Canton—Massillon area range from 6,000 to 9,000. Timken has laid off about 1,000 out of a force of 9,000.

The 10-minute demonstration followed a CIO—Steelworkers Union meeting at which the men were told "something must be done about unemployment."

It was the first protest here against lack of work since the 1930's.

Timken and Republic officials said the layoffs resulted from decreasing demands for alloy steel. But John E. Johns, district union director who addressed the meeting, said he believed lay-offs developed "because industry feels that now is the time to reduce cost at the expense of the workers."

Calling for an "unemployment soundoff," Johns said: "Basic steel will dry all types of schemes to get by with less men. They will combine jobs and over-load workers. Because the industry is in such a healthy position, it can lay off people and scare workers into taking a bigger work load."

He contended further that the number out of work has been kept quiet to prevent a "panic" and to "keep down embarrassment to the present administration."

Throughout the nation, Johns said, the union has had more than three million workers laid off.

The labor leader indicated that other demonstrations would be held.

Bert Denze, Timken vice president, denied Johns' charges and added, "When we do not have business, we cannot operate."

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

For many reasons I've been Union, the American Cancer Society, through the financial city, the American Red Cross, the records of scores of unions. Now City of Hope Hospital, the National I've come across something I find interesting.

RIESEL

wasn't looking for it, the Police Athletic Club, the YWCA, the National War Fund, the Community Chests and the USO, to mention just a few.

I've found few groups that American labor has given more than a passing glance to.

One billion dollars in recent years to the AFL-CIO "Operation Pig-fight for de-lift" out of Fort Worth, Texas, a agency a few months ago.

This "big-lift" made friends for us in an area where the British not only had lost the respect of the native population, but had to dispatch warships and marines to keep the Soviets from moving in.

The granting of aid was a result of joint labor efforts to establish a good neighbor policy between Fort Worth unions and the needy people in Honduras, right near Communist-controlled Guatemala and not too far from British Guiana in the Caribbean area.

To prove that a U. S. community is interested in our Latin neighbors, AFL and CIO units in Texas donated funds and labor to purchase 200 piglets—Hampshires, Berkshires, Poland and Chinas and Herefords.

THE PIGS WERE given a send-off party. Jimmy Petriolo's Music Performance Trust Fund provided a 17-piece "hill-billy" band. Texas farmers cut their prices on the pigs to $15 each.

Pig pens were built into the air-lift plane by Carpenters Union local of Fort Worth and Dallas. Vaccines and transportation for the pigs were provided by local businessmen.

Then the herd was flown to Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

We made friends. Compare this with the report of Lionel Luckhoo, leader of the anti-Communist British Guiana United Democratic Party.

Luckhoo revealed that thousands of Communist books were distributed in that Latin-American colony—but that he "had tried in vain to get counter-material from the British."

There are scores of such incidents which go unreported because labor's public relations is as outmoded as a town crier.

RIGHT NOW, for example, the AFL and CIO are raising some $50,000,000 for the Community Chest United Fund Campaign. You wouldn't know it unless you stumbled on it.

At the moment Leo Perlis, director of the CIO's Community Service Committee, is working with the national Red Cross on a special blood bank which will provide us with blood reserves throughout the country for immediate use if the Russians get in a sneak attack—especially on our big industrial cities.

As Perlis and the Red Cross worked it out in ARC national headquarters last week, the CIO's 3,000,000 members will be called on, not just perfunctorily, but in a hard hitting drive to stockpile their blood long in advance of any actual war.

Meanwhile, the CIO will receive credit slips for its blood donations. Any CIO member needing blood for emergency use can draw on the bank—and the CIO will replace it so it can be available for replacement of blood donated by radio-activity after an air raid. All this and the one billion dollars in the past 10 years, too.

That's good news. It, too, should travel fast.

shooting from the hip at innocent chickens, hogs, cows or children. They got to be quick on the draw, like their TV heroes, so they don't have time to identify what they're shooting at.

"I DON'T mind living dangerously, but enough is enough. If these city fellows want to come out here and play cops and robbers, or cowboys and Indians, I want to be sure I'm playing Dick Tracy or Sitting Bull. Maybe in an armored vest."

"Anyway, when the governor banned all hunting in the state because of the drought, I felt there was a silver lining in the situation."

"Soon I read the news. I went right to the kitchen and told Emma—Mrs. Stanley, that is—that we could go out to the barn now and take the long red flannel underwear off the cows."

Sen. Anderson Sees Stronger Farm Supports

Predicts Congress Will Act Because of Unrest in Midwest

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-MN) said today the recent election of a Democrat in a Wisconsin special congressional election should mean "a barrel of money" for the nation's farmers.

It focused attention on farm dissatisfaction, he said, and will force the 1954 session of Congress to work out a "strong program" of supporting farm income.

Farm belt dissatisfaction, if it continues for another year, will help Democrats greatly in the 1954 congressional elections, he told newsmen.

For instance he said it should be a lifesaver for three Democratic senators whose seats the Republicans have made a principal target—Douglas of Illinois, Gillette of Iowa and Humphrey of Minnesota.

Lester R. Johnson, 52-year-old lawyer who won the surprise victory in Wisconsin's 9th District last Oct. 13, came to Washington yesterday for a conference with Democratic leaders. He brushed aside any such title as "terror of the GOP" and told a news conference the farm problem played a key role in his election.

Anderson said he thought several million dollars in 1952.

Factors contributed to this result, but that he had noted farm unrest throughout the West in travels since Congress quit in August. The drought has helped snowball this feeling, he said.

"One of the big troubles is the farmer doesn't see anything being done in Washington that is really going to help him," he added.

He said the "strong program" of aid for agriculture which he predicted did not necessarily mean high rigid price supports of the type many lawmakers and farm groups are demanding.

The senator, who served as secretary of agriculture under former President Truman, long has favored a system of flexible price supports.

Appearing with LaRosa will be Russ Case and his orchestra and a singing group.

LaRosa is scheduled for a second appearance Sunday night on Ed Sullivan's TV program, "Toast of the Town."

Seven Enter Pleas At Bucyrus Court

BUCYRUS—Eight men indicted Oct. 21 by the Crawford County grand jury, were arraigned here Thursday afternoon before Common Pleas Judge John C. Carroll, with four pleading guilty, three entering innocent pleas and one making no plea.

Ray Johnson, 38, of Wyandot, pleaded guilty to a grand larceny charge and was placed on two years' probation. He was charged with stealing 100 bales of holer from the Zeigler Milling Co., Bucyrus. Ernest Lee Thomas, 21, of Crestline, charged with auto theft, pleaded guilty and was placed on probation for two years. He was charged with stealing a 1940 Buick belonging to Orville T. Lash, Tiro, in Crestline, Sept. 24. He was taken into custody in Bucyrus a short time after the car was leaving scene of an accident and was charged with reckless driving and was fined $30 on each count along with costs of $19. Dale A. Grasley, Bucyrus, pleaded guilty to a non-support indictment and his case was continued with another hearing tentatively scheduled for Monday. He was released under $300 bond.

No plea was entered by Norman Eshelman, 22, of Marion, to an auto theft charge. An attorney will be appointed by the court to represent him. Judge Carroll stated: Trial dates for these pleadings in court will be set in the near future. Prosecutor John D. Sears, Jr., reported.

GM Sales for First 9 Months At Record High

NEW YORK (AP)—General Motors Corp., biggest manufacturing firm in the world, sold more products in the first nine months of 1953 than in any full calendar year in its history.

Sales for the nine months were just under 8 billion dollars. At $7,931,000,000, the total was 43 per cent above the 5½ billion reported for the first nine months last year. And it was substantially higher than volume for all of 1952, the previous record year, when sales amounted to $7,549,000,000.

Both sales and earnings for the first nine months of 1953 were the highest

Divorce Trial Ends In Draw; Wayne, Wife Get Decrees

LOS ANGELES (AP)—No hands were raised in victory today in the bitter John Wayne divorce trial but Nicky Hilton claimed a foul.

"I'm the loser in this fight," declared the former husband of Elizabeth Taylor. "This is ridiculous."

He referred to the charge made by the movie box office king that Hilton was the other man in the Wayne's stormy domestic life.

A peace-loving judge called a sudden halt yesterday to the Wayne fight. He granted a divorce to each party, applying the so-called "humane principle" of the California divorce law. This seldom used principle is reserved for cases where no concession is seen for either side.

The double divorce came after Wayne charged—and his wife denied—that she was in love with Hilton. Both sides agreed—and so did Hilton—that the hotel heir spent a week as the guest of Mrs. Wayne at her home while he actor was in Honolulu.

Harding Offense Falters, Ashland Manages 7-7 Tie

Prexies Unable To Move Against Underdog Arrows

By JOHN HORT
Ashland High School's hapless Arrows simply refused to believe their press clippings last night at Ashland as they held a heavily favored Harding crew to a 7-7 dead-end tie.

The Presidents, favored by as many as four touchdowns, at no time showed any sign of being, or deserving to be, a favorite. The Harding attack fizzled at important stages throughout the game and the defensive line was moved out of the play regularly by the hard-charging Arrows.

At one stage in the third quarter, just after the Ashland squad had taken a 7-0 lead, the usually reliable ground game employed by the Prexies was unable to advance the ball for 61 yards despite the fact that two personal fouls called against Ashland ate up 30 of the precious yards. The last foul gave the Prexies a first down at the possession. They took over at their own 36 and started a drive which ended at the Ashland 20. Ballinger and Joe Albinack handled most of the load but the drive ended when a Fred Price pass was incomplete in the end zone. For the rest of the opening frame and also the second, the Prexies showed an amazing lack of ability to move the ball.

Harding fans were hopeful of a repeat of last week's performance when the second half started. Against Findlay, after being shut out for two periods, the local squad exploded for 27 points in the second half. That wasn't the case last night. Instead it was the host team which came back strong.

Harding took the kickoff and managed to move to its 35 where a fumble was recovered by Ashland's Joe Bolin. Roger Wissler and Dave Lersch combined to carry to the 10 from where Quarterback Dave Grindle hit Lersch with a pass in the end zone. That pass was followed by a perfect place kick by Wissler.

The Presidents showed signs of coming to life but the threat was ended when Sackett stole the ball at the 10. Midway in the final period, the Prexies managed to stave off defeat when they held the Arrows at the Harding 14. On the first play, Ballinger broke through the line on the draw play and outraced the Ashland secondary. He scooted the second half tomorrow with 20 where he was dropped from behind. Bob Hamor threw a key and West Virginia the only underliners. Fred Price hit Gene Armstrong with a pass good for 13 yards and Ballinger, Albinack and Chet King managed to move the ball to the two. King went in over the top for the score. John Obermiller missed his try for the point but Ashland was offside and his second attempt was good.

Two plays after the kickoff, Harding received a break when Bob Prater fell on a fumble at the Ashland 41. McBride and Leroy Stauffer bottled up the runners but Price threw a 17-yard pass to Ted Firstenberg at the 13 with three minutes to go. After moving up to the 11, the Prexies called on the trap play with Ballinger carrying but it was solved by McBride and the drive was stopped.

In the final minute of play the Prexies found themselves at the Ashland 36 but a pass interception by John Hartney ended the threat with 17 seconds to go.

The bell presented by the Erie Railroad as a trophy for the annual Harding-Ashland game, remained in Ashland following the tie. It will remain there for half a century and then come home to Marion. The Erie presented the trophy recently in an effort to bring the two cities. The bell is from an old Erie steam engine.

Harding coaches had nothing but praise for the Arrows' Dan McBride. At times, two Prexies were assigned to block him but he still managed to carry out his assignments.

The Harding gridders wilted visibly midway in the second period when a 45-yard gallop by Ballinger was nullified by a backfield in motion penalty. From that point the Harding attack bogged and was never able to catch on.

ORIOLES ENTER, BROWNS EXIT. After an absence of 50 years, the famed Baltimore Orioles formally return to the major leagues in a check-presentation ceremony attended by Clarence Miles (left), Oriole president, Sidney Schiff (center) St. Louis attorney and American League president Wil Harridge. Miles is giving a check to Schiff to close the $2,475,000 deal that knocked the St. Louis Browns out of existence.

Leahy Out, Will See Game On Closed Video at Home

NEW YORK (AP)—The crazy-quiet college football season swings into town up a big score. Georgia Tech, State's brother under the skin—it had a 31-game undefeated string snapped by Notre Dame last week—also has a relatively easy assignment in Vanderbilt.

The NCAA's coast-to-coast television game of the day will send Pitt against Minnesota at Minneapolis. In the Far West Southern California, which has looked better with each passing week, is the choice over Oregon, while UCLA, which would like nothing better than to make the Rose Bowl, has no solite in California.

PROFITABLE GAME
GASTONIA, N. C. (AP)—Miles F. Hamrick Jr., 25, never had seen the Gastonia Rockets of the Tri-State League play baseball but happened to go the night the Optimist Club was giving away a new car. Hamrick paid $1 for a ticket to see the game—and also won the car!

Baylor, which is stepping cautiously in its quest for the Southwest Conference title, plays Texas Christian in a loop game. West Virginia, ranked fifth, bettie. It will remain there for half a century and then come home to Marion. The Erie presented the trophy recently in an effort to bring the two cities. The bell is from an old Erie steam engine.

The new favorite for the Big Ten title, Illinois, also gets a stiff test in Purdue, the outfit that pulled the shocker of the season by hand-tossing Michigan State its first defeat in 29 games last Saturday. On paper, the Illini should win it, but Purdue, loser of its first four games before whipping State, is "up."

For its part, Michigan State will

Buckeyes Given 10-Point Edge Over Wildcats

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Northwestern's Wildcats, hungry for their first Western Conference victory of the campaign, storm into Ohio today for Saturday's game with Woody Hayes' Bucks before a sellout crowd of about 81,000. The guys who figure the odds and have established Ohio State as a 10-point favorite, but the five-game statistics fail to back up that spread. The Wildcats in losing two of five, have gained 1,070 yards rushing to Ohio's 969, and have outgained the Bucks 797 to 602 through the air—an overall edge of 1,867 to 1,571.

Ohio State, in winning four of five, has only a one-point scoring edge, 121 to 120, but has allowed 97 while the 'Cats have held their foes to 84. They have met no common opponent. So there's no basis for comparison on that score.

The Buck-Cat contest is the headliner of the 20-game weekend program facing Ohio college squads John Carroll and Youngstown, each with a 5-1 record, get the action started tonight at Youngstown.

Saturday's games include: Mid-American Conference: Miami (4-0-1) at Toledo (2-4); Kent State (4-2) at Bowling Green (1-5); and Ohio U. (3-1-1) at Western Michigan.

Mid-Ohio League: Ashland (1-4) at Findlay (2-3). Ohio Conference: Wittenberg (2-4) at Denison (4-2); Otterbein (3-2) at Hiram (1-3); Mount Union (4-2) at Ohio Wesleyan (5-0); Muskingum (1-3-1) at Marietta (0-4). Unattached: Xavier (2-4) at Villanova, Ohio Northern (0-5-1) at St. Lawrence, Capital (4-1) at Bethany, Oberlin (1-2-1) at Rochester, Dayton (2-3) at Cincinnati (1-5-1), Wooster (1-3) at Allegheny, Wilmington (2-4) at Kenyon (0-4); Washington U. at Western Reserve (2-3); Case Tech (0-4) at Baldwin-Wallace (2-4); and Anderson at Defiance (5-0).

Brownies Seek Second Victory Over Redskins

CLEVELAND (AP)—Off to their best start since entering the National Football League in 1950, Cleveland's Browns try here Sunday to beat the Washington Redskins before the game's skins again.

The Browns beat the 'Skins' in Washington two weeks ago and if they can repeat Sunday's victory, they will reach the halfway point in its schedule with six victories and no defeats.

The grass at Cleveland Stadium is green and thick, for the Browns rushing to Ohio's 969, and have outgained the Bucks 797 to 602 through the air—an overall edge of 1,867 to 1,571.

Philadelphia Eagles 37-13. The stadium will be well torn in the next five, has only a one-point scoring edge, 121 to 120, but has allowed 97 while the 'Cats have held their foes to 84. They have met no common opponent. So there's no basis for comparison on that score.

Except for the Pittsburgh Steelers, Cleveland has met and overcome each of its Eastern Conference rivals once, and even a setback Sunday would not drop the Browns from the conference lead.

A loss for Washington, however, would mean the visitors' once-high hopes of displacing the Browns as 1953 conference rulers would be all but dead.

Blue Devils Weak

St. Mary Goes After Sixth Straight Tonight at Carey

A favored St. Mary goes after its sixth consecutive victory tonight when it meets a hapless Carey that has been able to win only once in six tries.

It's almost a complete reverse of last year's situation. Then Carey came to Marion boasting a 6-1 record and faced a St. Mary team which had a mediocre 3-3 season record. The Blue Devils won 12-0.

The Irish are expected to be at near peak strength for tonight's contest at Carey. Ted Kilbury, who shares the left halfback duties with Johnny Messenger, is the only one who may be sidelined. He has a pulled back muscle and a bruised ribs. Guard Jerry Ballinger has a bruised hip but will be ready to go.

Carey, however, still hasn't recovered from the physical beating it took in its second game when it bowed to Mansfield Madison 26-6.

The Blue Devils will be operating without three regulars, right half Dan Dible, center, Jack Dotson and guard Dick Corran. Dwight Orans and Dick Dennison, the regular ends, will be at their posts but will be slowed down with injured ankles and knees.

On the Irish offense Coach Ray Robbins will use his regular crew. That's Pat O'Connor and Don Shoemaker at the ends, John Kelly and Ed Quinn at the tackles. Ballinger and Bob Campton at the guards, and Jack Schnitzler at center. Roger Michell will quarterback with Larry Ryan at full back. In the backfield slots will be Mike Den fight. A Sept. 10 defeat in Boston by the veteran Teddy Red or Kilbury.

Top) Davis rubbed most of the luster off his fine record. New Araujo starts all over again in a third match with Davis.

The defensive lineup is O'Connor and Dick Mounts at the ends, Quinn and Schnitzler at the tackles, and Campton and Kelly at the line.

Miami Tops Nation In Punting Marks

NEW YORK (AP)—Miami University of Ohio has taken over the nation's small college football punting leadership among the teams with a 44.7 yard average. Lawrence, Wisc., is second with 43.6 yards and Bowling Green State Ohio, is third with 41.9 yards.

In team total offense, Miami is third with a 416.6 yards per game average. McPherson, Kan., is first with 445.2 and the College of Idaho is second with 417.7.

Bill Bradshaw of Bowling Green is third in individual punting. His average is 41.9. The leader, Ed Grosse of Lawrence, has a 44.3 average on 16 punts and second, Ed Scott of Pomona-Claremont, Calif., has 41.9.

Ashland 18-yard marker but the attack was stopped when the Arrows' Duane Sackett, 180-pound center, actually stole the ball from a Prexy back. He grabbed the ball at the 10 and raced back 56 yards before Don Schweinfurth managed to pull him down from behind.

The Prexies were able to find just one play which worked effectively. That was a draw play with the quarterback dropping back and handing off to Gary Ballinger after the charging lineman had been pulled out of position. That play gained consistently until the payoff stage in the closing two minutes of play when Don McBride, 165-pound tackle, stopped Chug at the Ashland 10 as the Prexies were threatening to pull the game out of the fire.

The two teams hooked up in a puncheon duel for the first quarter with the Prexies folding after a threat the first time they gained

Olsen, Former OSU Basketball Mentor, Dead

RICE LAKE, Wis. (AP)—Harold G. Olsen, a basketball luminary for nearly 30 years, died last night at Lakeside Hospital. He had been in ill health for two years.

Olsen, about 58, was dean of Big Ten basketball coaches when he left Ohio State in 1946 to coach the Chicago Stags professional team. He had been at Ohio State 24 years, five times winning or sharing the Big Ten title in that span.

When the Stags folded, Olsen was named coach at Northwestern and served there until ill health forced his retirement several years ago.

Olsen was past president of the National Assn. of Basketball Coaches, a former chairman of the NCAA national basketball playoffs for eight years, chairman of the NCAA Rules Committee, chairman of the National Basketball Assn. of the U. S. and Canada, and a member of the 1948 Olympic Basketball Committee.

He had been operating a boys' camp at Sarona, Wis., since 1929. Olsen was a product of the University of Wisconsin, where he played basketball under Dr. Walter E. Meadwell in 1915-17, and also participated in football and baseball.

The calm, mild-mannered Olsen had been in failing health for two years. He was admitted to the hospital at Rice Lake Oct. 21. He lived at Evanston, Ill., and is survived by a daughter.

Olsen long was recognized as one of basketball's outstanding figures and most progressive leaders. In 1945, the National Assn. of Basketball Coaches awarded him its annual trophy as the man who had contributed "the most outstanding service to the game over a period of years."

Under his guidance, the CAA national playoffs grew from a small start, losing $2,500 in 1939, to one of basketball's greatest promotions.

New York Yankees' Sain Quits Game

WALNUT RIDGE, Ark. (AP)—New York Yankee pitcher Johnny Sain has retired from baseball to operate an automobile agency here.

Sain, who played in the major leagues for 11 years and in organized baseball for six years before for the Yankees in the 1953 World Series in a relief role. His record for last season with the Yankees was 14 victories to 7 defeats.

He said yesterday he mailed his resignation to the Yankees this week.

Attack of Polio Fails To Stop Fordham Star

NEW YORK (AP)—Fourteen months ago he was a few short gasps from death—paralyzed, helpless, aflame with fever and already given the last rites of the church.

Tomorrow afternoon at the Polo Grounds he'll snatch up a helmet from the field and take his place in the Fordham backfield against the University of Miami (Fla.) football team.

This is the almost unbelievable story of Jack Hyatt, 22, left half-back and co-captain of the Fordham Rams.

On Aug. 24, 1952, the blond Jersey City, N. J., athlete was stricken with an attack of bulbar polio. It was the kind of blow which would fell an ordinary man.

While lying in bed, choked with mucus and burning with a 107-degree temperature, he heard an attendant tell another not to change the bed clothes—"He won't live long anyway." He was conscious when a priest administered red the last rites.

"It got me," he said later. "I was determined to pull through."

Hyatt's recovery was miraculous. Still, it seemed impossible that he could ever play another game of football.

Yet, okayed by doctors, he reported for spring practice. Fifteen pounds below his normal 175 pounds, he fought for and won his regular place in the backfield.

"We tried to nurse him along but he wouldn't stand for it," said Coach Ed Danowski. "He insisted on staying out on the field doing sprints when all the others were through. We couldn't stop him."

"Jack has started a couple of games for us and he sees plenty of action, but he is still some eight pounds short of his playing weight and not as strong as he was in 1951 when he led our team in scoring."

"There may be a few things he can't do as well as before his trouble but the inspiration he is to our boys is something that can't be measured."

LaRue in Easy Double-M Win

LaRue's undefeated Indians continued their drive for the Double-M Six-Man Football League crown by downing the runner-up Chesterville squad 42-13 before a Dad's Night crowd at LaRue Thursday night. It marked LaRue's sixth straight victory.

Larry Hickman of the winners stole the show by running for the first three LaRue scores and then passing for another as LaRue rolled to a 27-0 halftime margin.

He went 40 yards for the first and later scooted 27 and 45 yards for two others. Hickman threw 20 yards to Keith Cooper for the other first half tally and in the third period, he went 20 yards for another LaRue score.

LaRue's final tally was counted by Wayne Thompson from three yards out. Hickman drop-kicked over two extra points and Hoesy caught a pair of passes for two more PAT's.

A two-yard run by Dan Perkins and a 30-yarder by Craig accounted for the Chesterville touchdowns. Perkins passed to James for the lone extra point.

LaRue attempts to clinch the Double-M crown next Friday as it closes its season against second-place Clanton on the LaRue field.

Waldo Notches Second Verdict

Waldo's six-man football team racked up its second straight win last night at Centerberg with a 31-6 trouncing of Sparta. Last week the Marion County squad edged Chesterville for its first win since starting football this year.

Sparta jumped into an early lead when Larry Hulse picked up the first score.

In the first period, Keith Augenstein ended a Waldo march when he plowed over from the two-yard stripe. He scored again in the second frame on a four-yard plunge. Don Yake added a third period touchdown when he took a pass from Augenstein. The play covered 20 yards.

In the final quarter the winners scored twice. George Yake notched the first when he gathered in a pass from David Nee to cover 30 yards. Augenstein came back with the final score on a 10-yard sweep. Rex Henry threw to George Yake for one extra point.

Rep. Hays Considers Running for Governor

WASHINGTON (AP)—Does Rep. Hays (D-Ohio) still want to run for the Democratic nomination for Ohio governor next year?

He still is considering it, he told a reporter today, but now is leaning more toward the idea of running for re-election.

He said he thought his chances of re-election in the 18th district were excellent.

Top Democrat Flies to Ohio For Meetings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Stephen A. Mitchell, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, flies to Ohio today, which he calls "one of the key states in next year's election."

Before taking off for meetings in Cleveland and Toledo with state party officials, Mitchell told a reporter:

"We're in an excellent position to retain the Ohio governorship, retain the Senate seat and win several additional seats in the House of Representatives."

He feels this is so, he said, because of the "talent available to run in Ohio next year including Sen. Burke and Gov. Lausche. Neither Lausche nor Burke has yet stated what office, if any, they might seek in 1954."

Burke, who was named by Lausche to fill the seat of the late Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) until a special senatorial election next year, has said he is waiting to confer with the governor before deciding whether to seek the Democratic nomination for a full Senate term.

Mitchell said he thought the appointment of Burke as senator "greatly enhanced the prospects of a Democratic victory in Ohio next year."

"I cannot recall when any appointment to the U. S. Senate has met such universal acclaim. Newspapers all over the country, Republican as well as Democratic, were enthusiastic."

Mitchell said he was "very happy" to accept the invitations to talk with Cleveland Democrats this

Chillicothe Scheduled To Get New Postoffice

ASHINGTON (AP)—A new post office will be built at Mill Street and Delano Avenue in Chillicothe, Ohio, the office of Sen. Bricker announced today.

A Bricker aide said the Post Office Department informed him that day the bid of Blain W. Sigler of Chillicothe had been accepted for the job.

The post office will lease the building from Sigler for 20 years, he said. The 2,500-square-foot building will be of cement block with brick facing.

Marriage of Ava, Frankie on Rocks

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's all over for Frankie and Ava.

Glamorous Ava Gardner says "It's final this time," and she'll sue crooner Frank Sinatra for divorce.

"There's no chance of reconciliation," the shapely star said yesterday.

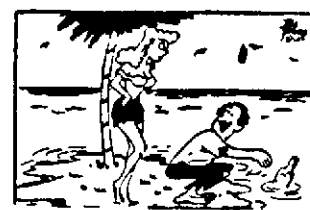

The reason? Frankie said there was career trouble but Ava denied this and wouldn't say what caused the split. There's no third party involved, however, she declared.

It's the third Ava Gardner marriage to hit the rocks. Husband No. 1 was Mickey Rooney No. 2 was bandleader Artie Shaw. Then came slender, bow-tied Frankie.

He divorced Mrs. Nancy Sinatra in Las Vegas, Nev., Nov. 1, 1951—two days after she had divorced him in Santa Monica, near here—! Although a 5,000-foot oil well was and six days later married Ava in considered deep in 1925, it is now Philadelphia. Frank and Nancy, considered a relatively shadowy 12 years, had three children here.
